

Help me think of a web domain + win a prize!

Filed under Uncategorized

Hi friends!

I have made the decision to streamline my many internet spots and create a web site that will act as a "hub" - of all nine of my blogs, and my regular columns, and even my tweets!

I am trying to think of a cool domain/name for it though...and I figured I'd turn to the coolest people I know and ask if you had any thoughts. If I use your idea, you will win a gift basket of some of my favorite beauty goodies!!!

Speaking of CONTESTS!!! In case you haven't checked it out yet, I am a celebrity judge in Vivabox's Mother's Day contest. The winner will receive two vivaboxes of their choice for the special Mom in their life: One to be delivered in time for Mother's Day and a second to be delivered in time for her birthday.

I love the concept of this product - it's sort of a "gift within a gift". There's spa and beauty options, but there's also prizes that will be loved by wine lovers, coffee addicts, or even a big barbecue fan!

To enter, simply submit 200 words or less on why the mom in your life (your mom/sister/grandmother/friend, etc.) deserves an extra special gift this year. What has she done over the past year that's been so remarkable that thanking her once is just simply not enough?

The vivabox staff will carefully review all entries, and the top ten essays will then be vetted us celebrity judges.

To enter, email contest@vivaboxusa.com and include:

- *Your Full Name
- *The Name of your Chosen "Mom" and your relationship to her
- *Daytime phone number
- *Mailing Address of where you want the boxes sent
- *Two vivaboxes of your choice

Good luck! I really want one of my readers to win!
